

'Christ Is Born!'

There Will Always Be A . . .

There will always be a Christmas.

In a time when the Star of Businessland loudly proclaims the birth of the Sum of Profit, there is still a Christmas, free to all who believe.

In an age of widespread political greed, when giving has become a commodity you buy and sell, and the only agreements drawn have a profit and loss balance, there is still a priceless gift called Christmas.

In a night when the whole world stands as a cold storage arsenal and the nations bluff for a hollow space of peace, a wind song passes through infinity, "A King Is Born."

In an age of super highways, super ashtrays and big, big dimensions, there is born, by the dust of a road, the highest need of man.

In a time when the "grinding is low" and "many windows are closed" in the street of faith, there is still a persistent voice that says, "Lo! I am with you always . . ."

When the iron bells are broken and the Calvary tree is trampled under foot, the clear sound of the earth will be "Christ Is Born."

There will always be, because there cannot be otherwise, a Christmas.

'Christ Is Born!'

Christmastide Sweeps Camp

'Gift' Theme To Highlight Tomorrow Night With Annual Pageant Of Word, Song

By Grace Jahn

Christmas will be officially ushered in tomorrow night when approximately two hundred Wartburg faculty and student body members will present the annual "Christmas at Wartburg" at 8 p.m. in the Knights Gymnasium.

Climaxing Wartburg's official Christmas activities will be the Chi Rho Candlelighting Service Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the gym.

Sunday's event, Wartburg's Christmas gift to its friends and to the community, will be presented by the Music and Art Departments in three divisions — "Christmas as the Gift of God," "Children in Adoration of the Gift" and "The Christchild—the Gift Itself."

Included in the program will be the reading of three of his original poems by Dr. G. J. Neumann, head of the English Department. Titles of the poems are "We Welcome Thee," "We Praise Thee" and "We Adore Thee."

Music Will Fill Gym

Wartburg's three musical organizations — the Wartburg Choir, the Concert Band and the Castle Singers — will also take part in the program.

The Wartburg Choir, under the direction of Dr. Edwin Liemohn, head of the Music Department, will present three numbers by Schreck — "O How Shall I Receive Thee?," "Lord Hosanna" and "Dearest Joseph" — and "Gloria in Excelsis" by J. Berger.

Opening with the "Messiah Overture" by G. F. Handel, the Concert Band, under the direction of Ernest Hagen, Music Department, will continue with "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by J. S. Bach and "Salvation Is Created" by Tschesnokoff.

Hovdesven Will Direct

Dr. E. A. Hovdesven, Music Department, will direct the Castle Singers in "Oh, Happy Time," a Norwegian carol; "Never a Star So Bright," a French carol, and "My Heart Is a Manger" by Alfson.

The three groups will combine for the closing presentation of G. F. Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus" from "The Messiah." The audience will also join in the singing of familiar Christmas hymns and carols.

Under the direction of Miss Helen Wright, Art Department, sophomores Carol Kucharik and Jane Becker and freshman Pat Schiefelbein will decorate the gymnasium with life-size papier-mache figures to illustrate the three-part theme of the event. Black light will be used for special effects.

Chi Rho Lights Candles

Candles will be blazing Monday evening when Chi Rho presents its annual Candlelighting

Students Vote 'Yes' For SB Project As Solons Are Faced With Big Agenda

By Linda Mugridge

Wartburg will sponsor a Student Body Project next semester. A majority of 53 students at the Student Body meeting Thursday passed the measure, which had been recommended by the Senate Monday night.

Senior Jack Reents was announced as Student Body Project chairman at the Thursday meeting. Suggestions for the project itself will be made, and the final selection will be chosen by majority student vote.

"The purpose of a Student Body Project is to provide improvements on our campus for both ourselves and those who follow after us—improvements that would not be otherwise provided for in the school budget," said Herb Hafermann, SB vice president.

Vote Secretly

Voting was done by secret ballot on the suggestion made by senior Richard Steege. Final tabulation showed the vote to be 53-2 in favor of the project.

In other meeting action, Duane Matz, chairman of the Student Welfare Committee, reported four recommendations passed by the committee Tuesday night. They are as follows:

—No smoking allowed in Luther Hall except in stairwells.

—Library will be the only part of Luther Hall open Sundays.

—Purses left on Union racks invite loss.

—Possessions are not to be left on racks.

The committee also recommended to the Senate that a survey on library hours be made and that clocks be installed on third floor Luther Hall and in laboratories. The Academic Life Committee has prepared a questionnaire for the library hours' inquiry.

Service under the theme "Oh, Holy Night," which will be sung by Jim Thomas, junior.

Dr. Clifford T. Hanson, Philosophy Department, will deliver the address. "This Night a Wondrous Revelation," arranged by Leroy Buchholz, senior, and "As on This Night" by Orlando Gibbons are the selections to be sung by the male chorus.

'T'was The Night . . .'

STRIKING a familiar pose, Dr. G. J. Neumann, head of the English Department, will present the annual readings at the "Christmas at Wartburg" program tomorrow night at 8 p.m., Knights Gym.

Library Ready By 1st Of March

Progress is being made as Wartburg's new college library nears possible completion by March.

Workmen have finished most of the interior of the $200,000 structure, according to Herb Engelbrecht, college business manager.

The heating system has been installed, and the building is now being heated. According to Engelbrecht, the painting of the building is now well under way.

Class Lists Monday

Schedules for second semester will be placed in all students' boxes on Monday, Dec. 15, according to Miss Mattie K. Harms, registrar.

This will enable students to see their advisers and get their second semester schedules worked out early. Advisers' office hours will be posted on the bulletin board outside the registrar's office.

The following courses will be offered in the evening: Art 204, Minor Crafts; Christianity 402, Major Religions; English 207, Contemporary American Literature; English 450, American Indian Literature and Music.

"These courses are scheduled in the evening to accommodate students who are working during day," stated Miss Harms. "They will also benefit people who are employed full time and wish to register for one course only."

There Goes Confused. Zoom!

There goes . . . zoom! Listen to . . . beep! Now just a . . . screech! These are (Whew!) familiar noises to all who drive a car (or try to cross a street) these days.

These rubber-squealing, gas-hungry vehicles are becoming more complicated every year and are being driven by more and more people. Among these drivers of complicated monsters are countless numbers of teenagers; (namely, you and me.) Where do they learn to drive, to handle these instruments of travel?

You tell me, "They learn from their parents, naturally."

I ask you, "How can parents, who have never read a book or taken a course about automobiles, instruct their children in the operation of a car made in 1958 by men who have spent 60 years in studying the intricate mechanism?"

You tell me, "Why, then, they learn in driver training courses offered at their high schools."

Well, I'm only one person, but it seems to me as though we're leaving everything else up to the schools, so we ought to leave all driving instruction up to them, too. These teachers are specialists, and besides, we wouldn't have to worry about-teaching them, since we're not capable.

As a matter of record, our accident slate isn't going to be very clean by the time we have young drivers to instruct. We'd better stay on the safe side and let someone else worry about tomorrow's drivers. Maybe they'll be able to interpret all these strange noises confronting today's travelers.

Before I . . . zoom! Here is how . . . beep! It is caused by . . . screech!

Most people let off steam on Outfly, but there are always a few who wait for the open forum convocation to do it.

It looks as if the problem of suitcasing at Wartburg has been solved. We can hold classes six days a week and rest on Sunday.

Could be the reason women are called females is that they cost the males money.

Picasso's economy art should become popular at Wartburg considering the pinched budget allotted to the Art Department.

Knight Life

By Don Claggett

Snow comes down and Christmas trees go up, both marking the beginning of the Yuletide season. Yuletide season is a time of the year when everyone smiles and says — "Charge it!"

Christmas gift requests are now pouring into Santa's workshop. And heading the list is Cotta House's plea for a new refrigerator. Cotta is betting heavily on Santa's coming through this year, because the inmates have done their best to be good boys this year, and have obeyed the word of the "Great White Father."

Andy Polis and his team of pinochle players traveled to ISTC last week to bring home a victory. Andy attributes his skill with the cards to the fact that he spent many hours on Grossmann 3rd last year. Several rookies are working out well this fall, and the team should be really tough for the winter season.

Don't look now, but you may have the measles! Last Tuesday Dr. E. T. Sandberg discovered, much to his surprise, that he had the little devils all over his chest. They lasted only a day, but they kept him out of class. Maybe the measles aren't so bad, after all.

Question of the week: Big game hunter Harold Schlachtenhaufen wants to know if Iowa has a bounty on owls. Harold has a unique method of trapping the wise birds; he just sits in his room until one settles on the window sill, and then he shoots it with his trusty bean-shooter. Total catch this season — one brown male.

Charles Swenson's general chemistry class members found the perfect mass cut system. They didn't simply leave the classroom before the professor arrived. Instead, they had several students wait for him. When good "Dr. Chuck" arrived, he was informed of the mass cut and asked if he would like to join the class for coffee in the Den. What could he do? He replied, "Make mine black."

Did you know that in the early 1920's if a student cut class at Wartburg, the penalty was a 50-cent fine? I'll take five dollars' worth!

Have a good trip home, drive slow, eat well, sleep much, study some, don't forget to see your hon and bring back many goodies.

Christmas Varies Abroad

Christmas as we know it is not the same all over the world. Though the Trumpet could hardly find enough first-hand evidence for what Christmas is like in other lands, staff members were able to interview some of Wartburg's students and teachers who are citizens of foreign countries or have acquired first hand knowledge of Christmas customs in other lands.

TURKEY

Deniz Oguzlu, sophomore from Istanbul, Turkey, reports that since Turkey is a Moslem country, Dec. 25 means nothing to the people.

"But Turkey does not follow the lunar calendar of the Moslem religion," stated Deniz; "therefore, the celebration of the New Year as a social event is comparable to Western culture."

Since Turkey is "westernized," many of the occidental holiday characteristics have carried over to the Moslem people. For example, shopkeepers decorate their windows, and the Western Santa Claus appears as a Turkish Noel Father.

The night of Dec. 31 highlights the celebration with various masked balls and parties in the large cities. A Turkish New Year custom includes the extinguishing of all lights during the first minute of the New Year.

Explaining this, Deniz remarked, "During this one minute, you are allowed to do anything you want."

HONG KONG

Bobby Tao and "Charlie" Chen, seniors whose home is Hong Kong, were asked what they would be doing if they were home at Christmas time. Bobby replied:

"We have about two weeks of holidays with big parties usually on Christmas Eve or New Year's Eve. It is about the same as here; the customs and decorations in the homes and streets are about the same. Decorations are put up by individuals — there is no chamber of commerce to do it.

Christmas is beautiful and much the same, only without snow."

Both boys recall caroling on Christmas Eve and gathering afterwards for midnight refreshments.

GERMANY

Since Germany is represented by several students on campus, Wolfgang Wessling, exchange professor of German, was asked to relate some of the German Christmas customs most familiar to him:

Nikolas Tage — Dec. 6 is set aside as a rehearsal for the coming of St. Nick. The children leave shoes outside their doors to see if they will be filled. If they are not empty in the morning, that means the children will get something for Christmas.

Advent Wreath — is made of pine boughs with four candles placed around it. The first candle is lit on Advent and the others, on the days preceding Christmas.

Christmas services are similar to ours with earlier children's services and a midnight worship for everyone. After church, presents are opened.

"Although I haven't been here for Christmas yet," concluded Wessling, "on the whole, I think our Christmases are very similar to yours."

Wartburg students having similar German background are Jochem Strehmel, freshman from Appleton, Wis., Karlheinz Matzen, freshman from Hudson, and Ulrich Columbus, Albert Lea, Minn.

IRAN

Dr. Manoocher Aryanpur, new English instructor from Iran, commented only that, "Since there are so few Christians in Iran, there is little evidence of any celebration on Dec. 25."

TANGANYIKA

Naaman Laiser, whose home is in Orusha, Tanganyika, described Christmas there as being a religious holiday for the Christians, "thus celebrated in a manner similar to the church here in America. We have, in our church, a service by the confirmation class, followed by the Christmas Eve service, which starts earlier in the evening and ends about 10 o'clock.

"Many individuals decorate their homes, whether they are Christians or not. There is no Santa Claus, or anything like that," added Naaman.

NEW GUINEA

Bill Schroeder, sophomore transfer student from Woonsocket, S.D., returned, along with Jack Reents, senior from Adams, Neb., to the United States after serving as a volunteer worker in the New Guinea mission fields for two years.

In a statement about giving, prepared for the Trumpet's Mission Talk column, Bill had this to say about New Guinea and Christmas:

"Is gift giving necessary at Christmas? The natives of New Guinea know of no such practice. The only natives who receive gifts at this time are those that are employed by the mission or enrolled in any of our schools.

"The bulk of the population are free of this habit and yet have a deeper feeling of the 'true' Christmas — a feeling of gratitude toward God — than the Christian who lives and is educated in a culture such as ours."

INDIA

Bob Mayer, junior from Hastings, Minn., recalls a typical evening Christmas service in the tradition of our India missions. This is his account:

"Christmas is always a time of strange pathos in India. By Christmas Eve, a scrawny thorn tree has been cut and placed in the church and decorated with colored paper, American Christmas cards, trinkets and candles.

"The walls and ceilings have been profusely hung with fresh mango leaves, bright paper and huge paper stars with candles hidden inside them suspended everywhere. All is ready for the service; and the large baskets with cheap sweets have been prepared to be handed out afterwards to the children.

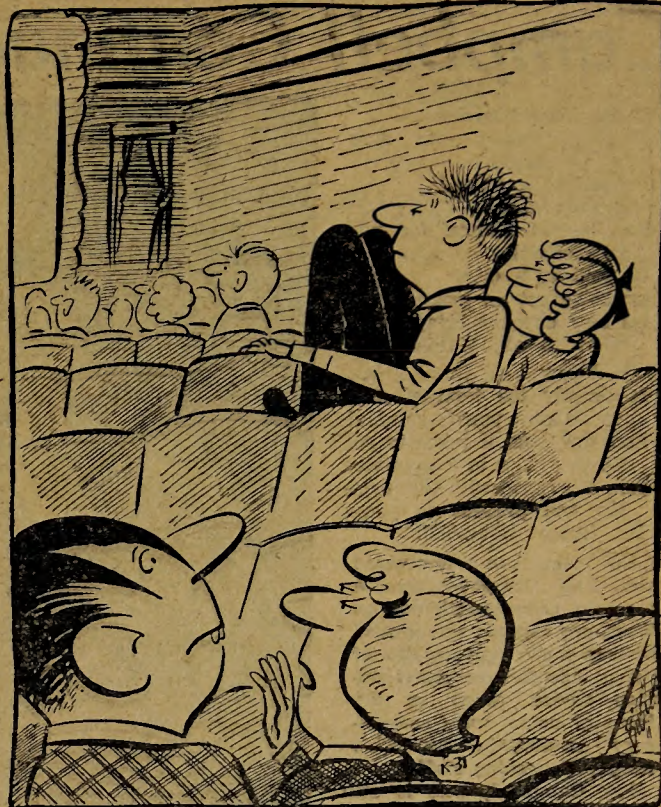

"When the service has begun, it is dark outside, and the candles are lit. Seated on the floor, the congregation seems quiet with the expectation. Brown faces shine, and white eyes gleam softly. There is great humility in them.

"In the back, on chairs, symbolically, sit the missionaries, enthroned and waiting — beyond the people. When the music begins, a wave of mighty voices sings the carols.

"The women with their saris draped over their heads sit on one side of the church, the men, in white robes on the other, and the children, seated in the middle, all sing together. And, then one wonders what the Christmas message is ... and if it is their message."

INSIDE EUROPE

Choir Travels Via Money

Aladdin has his magic lamp, Phineas Fogg has his balloon and the Wartburg Choir has its griddle.

Earning money for additional travel during its European tour next summer, the Choir has already sponsored two pancake suppers. More money-making events are in the offing, according to junior Grayce Pumfrey, Project Committee chairman.

"What project comes next, no one knows," she said. "Which ever one comes up and fits the time best is the one we'll take."

A total of $103 was earned during the first pancake supper, held Oct. 5, and approximately $85 was made on the second supper Dec. 7, according to Miss Pumfrey. Suggested ways to earn future cash include a bake sale, more suppers and sale of boxes of chocolates.

The goal of these activities is to make as much money as possible, related Miss Pumfrey. Earnings have not been earmarked for a specific purpose as yet, but they will probably be used for tour side trips, such as a cruise on the Holland canals.

May the spirit of this joyous, merry season ring in your heart all the year 'round! Have a most happy and cheerful Christmas.

A Good Place To Work

Campbell Continues Career

By Tom Christensen
If you'll make your ears to me lendable, I'll tell of a chap inexpressible. The person chosen for you as a sample Of part of a crew who've set an example On how coaches bring trophies to old Wartburg's mantel—
Is exactly the type of man upon whom you'd gamble! He's got what it takes to put Knights' foes in a shamble! Now I'll cease with this ramble and present to you—Mr. Robert Campbell.

Not more than a few years ago, Bob Campbell was a vigorous young gentleman on Wartburg campus who proved himself more than capable of being able to take sound advice—advice given in the form of some quite compulsory commands by the Knights' coaching staff.

Now Campbell, who is still just as vigorous, although not quite so young, has been proving to the Wartburg clan that he is every bit as capable of giving sound advice as he was at taking it.

Give And Take

A few people know how to take advice but don't know how to give it. Many more people can give advice, but cannot (or will not) take it. Campbell is a man who has become quite proficient in handling either end — giving or taking — and Wartburg has reaped the benefits. Campbell is currently Wartburg's head track tutor, freshman basketball coach and backfield coach for the football squad.

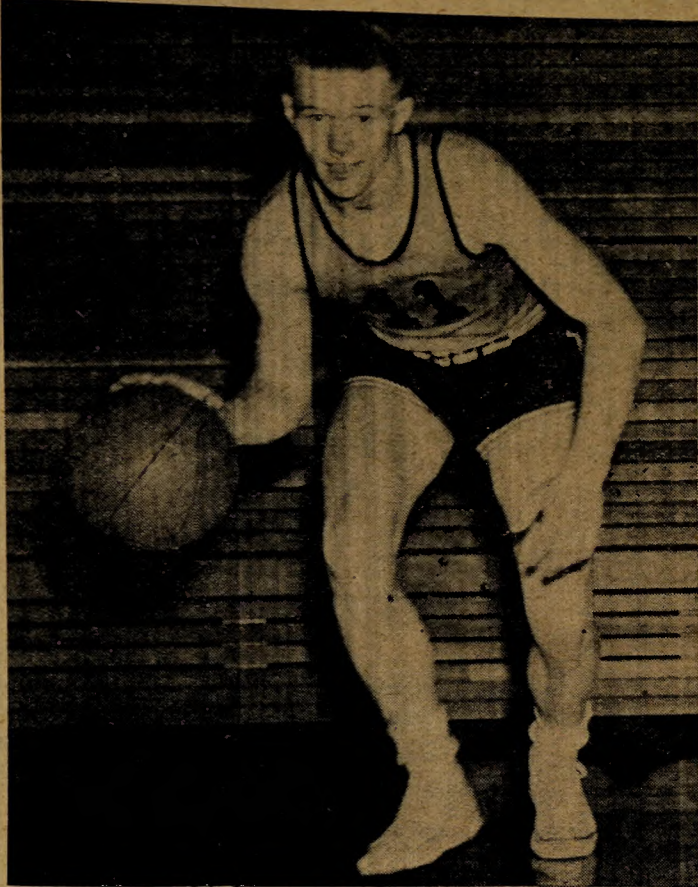

The youthful, vigorous Campbell seems always to be running along trying to catch up with himself. One suspects he would set a brisk pace for anyone who might have the endurance to follow him around for a few hours. If everyone on campus moved around as sprightly as he does in Knights Gym, it would almost become mandatory to equip Wartburg sidewalks with traffic signals!

Campbell came to Wartburg from Richland Center, Wis., in 1948. In high school he starred in sports where speed is usually a prerequisite — basketball, boxing and track — and garnered the first of many honors to come. An all-conference forward in basketball his senior year, he also was captain of the track squad and landed a second place in the state track meet while competing in the high jump.

Eight Big W's

In 1948 Campbell took the first of eight letters he won as a stalwart with the Knights' basketball and track teams. He lettered four years in track, his senior season taking conference honors in pole vault with an 11' 6" leap. The same year he vaulted 21' 8" in the broad jump. These two marks still stand as Wartburg records.

Regarding the records, Track Coach Campbell says, "I've been accused by some of the people around here of not coaching these two events in an attempt to retain the records. I plead innocent! In fact, somebody may come along and break both of them this next season, because we have some good material returning!"

LITTLE, but mighty, Bobby Campbell made his presence known in the Iowa Conference when this picture was taken in 1952.

Campbell lettered three seasons with the court crew as a forward and was co-captain in 1952 when the Knights won the conference championship. The same year he was named to the first team of the Northern Division All-Stars of the Iowa Conference.

Grid Career Snaps

The other letter Campbell earned at Wartburg was in his freshman year when he played football. After playing three games as a capable passing halfback, he had his leg broken and was forced to discontinue his short career on the gridiron.

To cap his busy year at Wartburg in 1952, Campbell was presented with the Tofte Award, and was thereby recognized as the outstanding senior athlete year.

After Campbell received his B. S. from Wartburg in 1952, he joined forces with the Navy, where he continued to participate in basketball and track. Having completed his service requirements, Campbell enrolled at the University of Iowa, Iowa City, and began work toward an M. A. degree, which he obtained in 1957 after beginning his Wartburg coaching career in 1955. Campbell is very pleased with his freshman basketballers and expects great things from them.

Up The Stairs

He is also looking forward to the track season, and there again expects some aid from the freshmen. In the past three years his thinclads have progressed from sixth- to fourth- to third-place in Iowa Conference competition, and Campbell believes they should continue to climb.

On Oct. 3 Campbell's wife, who is well-known at Wartburg as the campus nurse, presented him with a son, whom they named Blake Duncan.

"An interesting thing about a baby," says Campbell, "is his appetite. I've estimated that in his first year of life, Blake will consume, among some less nourishing items, 675 jars of prepared foods, 30 cans of juice, 10 boxes of zwieback, 15 pounds of potatoes, 10 dozen eggs, 4 pounds of bacon, 6 packages of cereal, 336 cans of evaporated milk and 22 pounds of sugar!"

The next time you perceive Campbell hurrying off somewhere, you may be safe in assuming he's headed for a supermarket!

Campus Leagues Going Sixteen Strong As Intramural Ball Ends Second Week

IM basketball is in full swing as 16 teams compose the two leagues, Campus and Off-Campus. Clinton II and Grossmann III are at present sharing top honors in the Campus League with two wins and no losses.

Cotta House and Vollmer House are also sharing top honors in the Off-Campus league with identical records.

Darrol Bauer, Waverly, is currently leading both leagues in scoring with 39 points. All men continue to show their best as they battle for a position on the leagues' all-star team.

No game action is scheduled for this week, but play will be resumed Jan. 5, 1959. Wrestling competition will start after semester tests.

Grapplers Go Down 14-11

Winona State turned back the Wartburg wrestling squad Tuesday evening by a score of 14 to 11 as Jerry Wedemeier, Winona State, beat Bruce Brye, Wartburg, by a 4 to 1 score in the final bout.

Wedemeier came from behind to pick up four points in the final period as Brye tired.

- 123 — John DeLozier (Win.) beat Gerald Oberheu, 8-1.
- 130 — John Sternberg (War.) beat Doug True, 3-2.
- 137 — Dick Chelleyold (War.) beat Jim Sovereign, 2-0.
- 147 — Glenn Johnson (Win.) beat Charles Burman, 6-4.
- 157 — Dean Sanderson (Win.) beat Don Weldler, 6-4.
- 167 — Arno Frerichs (War.) drew with Bernard Pelper, 3-3.
- 177 — Alan Hassman (War.) beat Roger Helgerson, 6-1.
- Heavyweight — Jerry Wedemeier (Win.) beat Bruce Brye, 4-1.

The next meet for the Wartburg matmen will be Jan. 10, when they entertain Luther College in Knights Gym.

Axmen Go Past Central 67-66

Pella — Wartburg Knights opened up an early second-half margin, then staved off a late Central surge to win their Iowa Conference opener 67-66 here last night.

The Knights and the Dutchmen were both cold from the field in the early part of the game, as Wartburg managed a 28-27 edge at mid-game. Coach Ax Bundgaard's cagers came out of the locker room and quickly pumped in 8 of their first 11 shots to gain a 45-33 advantage.

Central employed a full-court press midway in the final half and cut the Knight margin to 65-62 with less than four minutes left. A basket by John Karle made it 67-66 with 30 seconds to go. Knight Dave Jensen was fouled and missed his 1-1 attempt. Central controlled the ball with 12 seconds to go, but missed their final attempt to score.

John Tuecke and John Mehlhaus paced the Knights with 18 and 12 counters. Karle tallied 18 times for the Dutch.

AXMEN AT SIMPSON

Wartburg takes to the road in its second conference tilt of the '58 campaign to face the Simpson Redmen tonight.

Much can be expected from the Redmen this season with the return of 14 lettermen. Four of last season's starting five will be returning to action under the coaching of Les Deaton. In last season's action, the Redmen had an 11 and 8 record overall.

SPARTANS COMING

Next Tuesday the University of Dubuque Spartans will face Wartburg on the Knights' home court.

With the return of five lettermen, more depth, speed and better shooting, the Spartans are hoping to get out of their cellar position of last season. Handicapping this season's squad is lack of height and the need for improvement in defensive fundamentals in a few positions.

LORAS WILL HOST

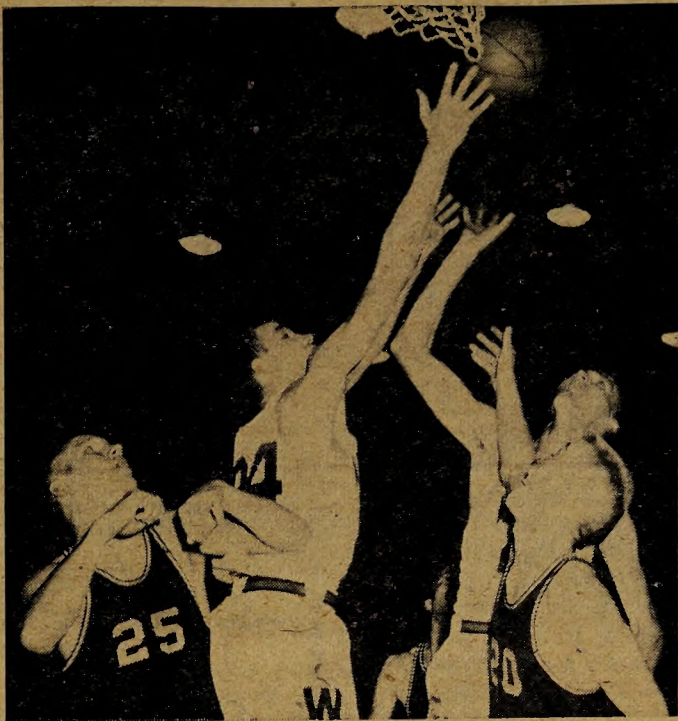

Next Thursday will find the Knights traveling to Loras College for a non-conference affair.

With the loss of only one man, Jim Kenney, the number three scorer for the team, the Duhawks are at full strength this season. Loras hopes for a good season as a result of experienced men, fast breaks, a press defense, plus the fact that 13 of its 22 scheduled games will be played at home.

In last season's action, the Duhawks gained 11 wins against 12 losses. Of their wins, one of them was over Wartburg, 72-65.

XMAS TOURNEY SET

On Dec. 29 and 30 the Knights will take part in the four-school Tall Corn Tournament at Cedar Falls and Waverly. On Dec. 29 the Knights will entertain Northern Illinois while Gustavus Adolphus will meet ISTD. The losers in each game will meet on Dec. 30. This will be the consolation game prior

GRINNELL TO APPEAR

On Jan. 6 Wartburg returns home for a non-conference tilt with the Pioneers of Grinnell College.

Despite the return of six lettermen, Grinnell Coach John Pfirsch faces an uphill task this season as he tries to bring the Pioneers into the first division of the Midwest Conference. Grinnell had a 6-10 league record last season.

TEAM RAPS AUGSBURG

With the exchange of the lead seven times and trailing by one point 33-32 at half-time, the Knights came back in the last 20 minutes of action in last Saturday's game to hand Augsburg a 66-61 defeat.

The Auggies were spearheaded by the first all-around play of Dick Robinson, who hit for 21 points to help keep the Knights in check.

A 10-point margin was as far as the Knights were able to pull ahead, late in the second period, before Robinson and Orin Schueler poked in six quick baskets to put the Minneapolis quintet out in front at half-time.

The lead exchanged hands twice in the final periods of action before the Knights pulled out in front to stay.

Four Knights hit the double figure mark: John Tuecke 15, Dave Jensen and John Mehlhaus 13 and Denny Wessels with 10.

Picking Up Splinters

By Wilbur Flachman

Attention on this page is usually centered around sports with male participation. Little recognition is given to physical education activities of our female counterparts.

Every Wednesday evening coeds clad in bermudas and canvas shoes can be seen hustling across campus toward Knights Gym. Here the gals gather to enjoy a year-around program set up by their own organization, the Women's Athletic Association.

Physical education instructor, Miss Adeline Langrock, advises the WAA group, which functions much as men's intramurals do. Carol Nutten, senior, is president of the feminine organization this year. The girls divide into teams for the various sports on the WAA calendar. Extra incentive is provided in that the girls may earn awards by accumulating points for participation.

Volleyball has just been completed, and basketball will soon be on tap for the members of the bobby sox league. One school in the Iowa Conference, Iowa Wesleyan, has women's basketball as a major part of its Athletic Department. The Wesleyan Tigerettes play top women's basketball teams all over the United States, and often outdraw men's basketball exhibitions.

Wartburg, too, used to have women's basketball as an intercollegiate sport. Back in 1919 there was first evidence of girls engaging in active sports.

Throughout the '20s, the Wartburg Women's Physical Training Department put on an annual public demonstration. The program usually consisted of from 12 to 20 numbers. The numbers consisted of everything from the "Sword Dance" to a "Military March" to (get this) a "body building demonstration." The girls also presented an annual May Festival complete with costumes — this presentation consisted chiefly of folk dances and ballet.

In 1923 the Wartburg lassies tangled with a team of Waverly High School gals three times — and lost on each occasion. Pictures of that time show the girls uniformed, all in white middie blouses and hair ribbons that matched long silk scarfs tucked under their collars and tied in a knot at their waists.

The year 1924 saw the local sextet take the floor against outside competition. The '24 annual reports that the girls "took long hikes in the country in the fall to get in shape." "Heroically they refrained from eating sweets and pastry. They sat at a separate section in the dining hall." The girls lost three games to other teams and two more to the Great Western Railroad when the train arrived too late to take them to their opponents.

In '25 the Wartburg girls won a larger percentage of their games than did the boys. Their only loss was to Gates Business College of Waterloo, 31-6. In the succeeding years, girls still played basketball, but outside competition was eliminated from the schedule.

It's a rare bird indeed who doesn't care for the good taste of Coke! In fact, you might even call him an odd ball. After all, 58 million times a day somebody, somewhere, enjoys Coca-Cola. All these people just can't be wrong!

Time And Chimes On Convo Slate

Only two more convos until Christmas!

Dr. C. H. Becker, president, will have full charge of Tuesday's annual Christmas convo. The Christmas play will be presented in the Little Theater during Thursday's convo.

Dr. Becker will speak on the subject "In the Fullness of Time," based on Galatians 4:4. Robert Larson, Music Department, will sing, and a selection of Christmas hymns will be sung by the assembly.

"Why the Chimes Rang," the Christmas play for Thursday, will be presented by the Wartburg Players under the direction of junior Melba Klepzig. The play will be repeated at the evening chapel service at 6:30.

Map Man Coming

William L. Curran, Education Division of the Rand McNally Co., will demonstrate the use of maps and globes at 11 a.m. Thursday, in Room 202 Luther Hall.

Miss Stella Austerud, of the Education Department, and sponsor of the demonstration, invites all those interested to attend.

We're On The Air! Choir Attracts TV

Wartburg College Choir will make its first TV appearance on Wednesday, Dec. 17, at 5:15-5:45 p.m. over KWVL TV, Channel 7. The Choir's appearance will be a part of the station's special Christmas programs.

Five selections which will be presented are "Domine Quid Multiplicati" by Orlando di Lasso, "Glory Be to God" by Jean Berger, "Advent Motet" by Gustav Schreck, "So Nimm Denn Meine Haende," a German chorale, and "Joseph Dearest, Joseph Mine," a German carol.

LYLE'S TRAVO-TEL

Do You Think for Yourself? (HERE'S A TEST THAT WILL TELL YOU!*)

1. If the salaries were equal, would you rather be a college professor than a movie star?

YES ☐ NO ☐

5. Do you believe it unwise to eat at irregular hours, even though you're hungry?

YES ☐ NO ☐

2. Would you rather borrow money from a bank or institution than from a friend?

YES ☐ NO ☐

6. If you actually saw a "flying saucer" land, would you run for your life?

YES ☐ NO ☐

3. Would you rather have tests sprung on you than be warned about them in advance?

YES ☐ NO ☐

7. Would you be inclined to follow the latest style in clothes regardless of how it looked to you?

YES ☐ NO ☐

4. Do you think it's foolish to daydream?

YES ☐ NO ☐

8. Would you feel badly if you thought nobody at all knew where you were?

YES ☐ NO ☐

9. Are you confused by the clamor of conflicting claims so many filter cigarettes are making these days?

YES ☐ NO ☐

The fact is, thinking men and women don't let themselves get pushed and pulled by all those filter claims. They know what they want in a filter cigarette. And they know only VICEROY gives it to them. A thinking man's filter, a smoking man's taste. Makes sense.

Should you smoke VICEROY? If you think for yourself—chances are you do already!

a concert date with pianist Roger Williams, according to Langrock.

"We hope to hear from this agent in a week," he added.

Final Campus Chest Report by Chest Committee chairman, Roger Buhr, was also given during the Student Body meeting. Buhr said that money donated from the Chest campaign to the Student Memorial Fund will henceforth be given in the name of both Wartburg students and faculty. Previously, the faculty were not mentioned as donors.

Possibility of two cafeteria lines on weekends was brought up by Steege and referred to the Student Welfare Committee. Student Body Pres. Jim Schwarz asked that football field flags and 50-yard markers belonging to Simpson College, Indianola, be returned. He has received a bill for $15 from the school.

Chapel - Goers Discussed

Discussion at Student Senate Monday centered around church workers and chapel attendance. Junior Howard Schroeder reported that both the student and student-faculty Religious Activities Committees had discussed the problem of keeping and increasing the number of prospective church workers. Christianity Department objections to a proposed course which would emphasize church work and to the validity of the problem itself were considered.

It was pointed out that chapel attendance is steadily decreasing, even with the new system of one service a night. Following discussion of probable causes and solutions, the problem was referred to the Religious Activities Committee.

Question of library hours was tabled. The traffic problem presented by the College Hill intersection was referred to Student Welfare Committee.

Indian Literature Course Will Be Offered Again

For the second consecutive year, Wartburg College will be the only liberal arts college in the United States to offer a seminar in American Indian Literature and Music, according to Dr. Edwin T. Sandberg, English Department.

The course will cover the themes common in Indian literature — myths, legends and tales of Indian tribes in various parts of the country. Instrumentation of Indian music and its use in the ceremonies and religious rituals of the Indians will also be covered.

Although the course will not apply on the English major, students with an interest in anthropology or in the cultural significance of the only true American heritage may take the course for two credit hours with the consent of the instructor.

The class will meet during the second semester on Thursdays from 5 to 7 p.m. Those students interested should contact Dr. Sandberg before the end of this semester.

Carol

Dear Santa,

We imagine you get many letters saying, "Please send me" . . . but our letter will be somewhat in the form of a thank you, for our list of "pleases" is small.

1. Please send us some defense strategy that will put black coal in Simpson's stockings. Tell your lead reindeer to head for Indianola at 7:30 tonight.

"I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas" . . . and it will be sparkling for Janice Cave, senior from Waverly, who received a diamond from Thomas Kay, Wartburg history instructor from Wheaton, Ill. A summer wedding is planned.

2. Please sprinkle the ground with new fallen snow to give a luster to "Christmas at Wartburg," which will be held in Knights Gymnasium at 8 p.m. Sunday.

"Just like the ones we used to know" . . . Chuck Wallin, Gaylord, Minn., and Helen Watson, Le Mars soph, will also be knowing many in the future, as they became engaged during Thanksgiving vacation.

3. To help lighten your way, Chi Rho is having its annual Candlelight Service at 7:30 Monday night, in Knights Gym.

"Where the tree tops glisten" . . . as bright as Diane Bierbaum's diamond from Richard Grave. She is a sophomore from Garnavillo, and he is a senior from Hartford, S. D.

4. Now that we have the defense, Santa, would you send us the offense for our game with Dubuque, here at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, and send your helpers to clear the paths from Clinton Hall, as the boys there will be serving refreshments following the game and bringing Christmas carols to the women's dorms later.

"And children listen" . . . We hear that Steen Tofte, sophomore from Waverly, is engaged to Janice Ferguson of Waterloo.

5. . . . And, oh, Santa, please remind the members of WAA to attend the meeting Wednesday night at 7 p.m. in Knights Gym. We hear too that the Passavant club is to have its Christmas party at the home of its adviser, Mrs. Lola Repert, at 5:30 Saturday evening.

"To hear sleighbells in the snow" . . . on the way to Wartburg Hall open house, tomorrow between 4 and 5 p.m..

Coffee and cookies will be served in the lounge by the Coffee Committee of Pi Sigma.

6. Be sure to fill Ax's argyles with fetishes to charm away Loras' playing strategy at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the game there.

Fresh quote: Karen Korkow, "Oppie, did you have to pray for seven inches of snow to stop campus-cutters?"

7. And strengthen the vocal chords of Leroy Buchholz and David Linkey for their recital to be held in the Fine Arts Building at 7:30 Thursday evening.

We hope this list won't stretch your bag too much, Santa, but one last request:

Drama Dept. Plans To Send Delegates

Wartburg Drama Department plans to send several students to the second annual drama conference, to be held next March at the State University of Iowa, according to Vernon Lestrud of the Wartburg Speech Department.

Entitled "Imagination '59," the conference will attempt to "bring about an interchange of ideas and stimulate imaginative thinking," as stated by Michael F. Kelly, chairman of the event. Attention will be focused especially on acting and directing.

Please give us traveling weather as we leave for our rest on Friday at 12 noon. Remember, we don't have sleighs and reindeer.

. . . So thank you for the year and the joys it has brought to Wartburg. A personal Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to our readers.

The Littlest Angels

There'll be Christmas in the air at Wartburg.

Radio station KWAR's contribution to the campus celebrations will be in the form of a number of special Christmas programs to be presented over the Wartburg station next week, according to Paul Ahrens, program director.

A series of four programs collectively titled "Hark the Herald Angels Sing" will be heard Monday through Thursday, Dec. 15-18, at 9:45 p.m., and will consist of both old and new Christmas carols.

There Will Be Hope

The "1958 Army of Stars" from the Salvation Army, featuring Bob Hope, well-known radio announcer Jimmy Wallington and several stars of the Metropolitan and San Francisco Opera Companies is to be presented at 9 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 18.

"The Whirlybird Santa Claus," a quarter-hour dramatic about a Salvation Army lassie and a Santa Claus who brings cheer in a whirlybird, is scheduled for 8 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 17.

The State University of Iowa will present excerpts from its 1957 concert by the SUI orchestra and chorus from 7 to 8 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 18. The program will consist of the "Dettingen Te Deum" by Handel and portions of the opera "Hansel and Gretel" by Humperdinck.

A Dickens Play Too

Also from the University will be a dramatization of Charles Dickens' "The Cricket on the Hearth" scheduled for 9 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 17.

"This year's schedule of Christmas programs on KWAR promises a wide variety of entertainment and inspiration," stated Ahrens.

Two Poetry Students Have Work Printed

Steen Tofte, sophomore, and Marcia Kahl, senior, recently received word from the National Poetry Association that they have had poems accepted for inclusion in "America Sings," annual anthology of college poetry.

If God were to come with His angels, no one could listen to Him...

We cannot bear to have God speak to us in His majesty with countless thousands of angels. Therefore the best procedure is to abolish our design to hear God speak in His majesty, for we cannot bear this language. But God says: Now I shall hide My majesty, most thoroughly, shall allow My Son to become man, born of a virgin; let Him do good to men and preach them the forgiveness of sins. He shall act in the kindest manner possible; only bear in mind that this man is the same God who spoke in the desert at Mount Sinai to the Children of Israel. Believe, therefore, that it is He whom you are hearing. He has hidden His majesty in humanity, does not appear with lightning, thunder, or angels, but as one born of a poor virgin and speaking with men of the forgiveness of sins.

These words of Martin Luther help give us a deeper understanding of the true meaning of Christmas.
